Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no "hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

FIGHT WITH BLACK HAND.

As a result of a determined effort on the part of reputable Italians of Pittsburg, Pa., to clean out the Black Hand, a desperate battle was fought in the produce yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad in that city yesterday afternoon.

A score of Italians took part, fighting over three blocks, hundreds of shots were fired, and the police reserves of three stations were called out to stop the riot.

Last night Joseph Sunseri, a wholesale fruit dealer and the wealthiest Italian in Pittsburg, was in a serious condition at the West Penn Hospital; M. Rei, alleged leader of the Black Hand, was dying in the same hospital, and Joseph Colandio, another Italian, is in the hospital at the central station.

Some time ago the better class of Italians of Pittsburg formed a society which they called the White Hand. Prominent in it are Sunseri, Ernest Bisi, a macaroni manufacturer and wholesale grocer, and Mariana Cancelleri, editor of an Italian newspaper published at Pittsburg.

The Black Hand has been very active the past few days, and both Sunseri and Bisi were informed that if they did not give $1,000 each to the society they would be killed. Sunseri received a letter telling him to bring $1,000 to the produce yard yesterday afternoon. Instead, he took a revolver and half a dozen of his friends.

When he reached the produce yard Sunseri met Rei and Colandio, who invited him into a car to look at some fruit. Inside the car Rei and Colandio demanded the $1,000 that had been asked for.

In an instant Sunseri had his revolver out and began firing. The first shot was a signal for friends on both sides, and soon more than a dozen men were fighting with revolvers and knives. Sunseri wounded Reoi and Colandio, but was himself seriously hurt.

The fight continued out of the produce yards and down Pennsylvania avenue for three blocks, when the arrival of the police reserves put an end to it.

Colandio, shot through the cheek, was still fighting, when a score of citizens closed in and would have lynched him had not the police prevented.

Sunseri is an uncle of Joe Batagli, of Pittsburg, who found a bomb on his porch a week ago. Sunseri's activity in trying to run down his nephew's enemies it is thought incurred the enmity of the society.

When to Go Home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the household." To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale by Richard Gibson and W. F. Creighton & Co.

CONDITIONS AT GOLDFIELD.

The mines of Goldfield are to be reopened Thursday. The wage scale is to be reduced and no member of the Western Federation of Miners will be given employment. Meanwhile 500 men will be taken to Goldfield to take the places of the strikers.

Such was the decision of the executive committee of the Mineowners' Association reached yesterday.

Governor Sparks will go to Goldfield Thursday. The troops will be scattered through the camp and will practically guard the mines.

A street brawl took place in Goldfield yesterday when a member of the Western Federation of Miners called a soldier a vile name. John Davis, who was walking with the officer, seized the offender and held him until another officer arrived. An attempt to draw weapons was prevented by bystanders.

Officers of the Mineowners' Association asserts that they are depending largely on deserters from the federation. They will permit men belonging to the American Federation of Labor or affiliated unions to go to work and will not bar men belonging to any labor organization except the Western Federation and the Industrial Workers of the World.

The scope of the Mineowners' Association is to be greatly enlarged by the organization of the Nevada Mineowners Association, of which the Goldfield body will be a part. The new organization is already well under way.

There is nothing better offered the public today for stomach troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion, etc., than Kodol. A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritible wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes." writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great Medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him" Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by all druggists, 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," in an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and sad chilblain disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by druggists. 25c.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray is a remedy that relieves at once. All druggist, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 10, 1907.

THE death of King Oscar of Sweden will be regretted not only by his loyal subjects by whom he was sincerely loved, but by the people of all nations. He was a wise king, a just ruler, a Christian man and a kind and indulgent husband and father. Ripe in years, rich in honors and sincerely lamented he has now joined the great majority. A descendant in the second generation of Jean Baptiste Jules Bernadotte, the son of a French notary, and the equally lowly born Mlle. Clary, the departed monarch had a royal presence and a character that was kingly in the best sense of the word. He was simple in habits, accessible and courteous to the humblest, of unblemished morals and a scholar and a gentleman. King Oscar was a profound student of international law and served more than any other ruler as an arbitrator between nations. In the trying situation which arose when Norway severed her union with Sweden King Oscar comported himself in a manner that was dignified and in every other way admirable. He refused to take arms and decided that no blood should be spilled to maintain a sister nation in unwilling alliance. He parted with the Norwegians in sorrow, but without a trace of anger. The "Good King Oscar" will perhaps be given a place in history as a model and careful ruler and as a useful man. He has no claim to fame as a war lord, as a constructive statesman or as a meddler in destinies, but he was gentle and lovable, a brave and kindly man, a worker, a literary artist of considerable ability and a jurist of great renown. He plainly showed that he felt the crown a burden, though he bore it dutifully and with care to the preservation of its highest ideals. He gave to matters of State his greatest care, but he was by nature a bookish man, and loved the easy chair of his library better than the throne; he loved the pen better than the sceptre and the lilt of song better than command.

KING OSCAR'S "soliloquy on the autumn of life," written but a short time before the monarch was stricken by his last illness, is generally published by the Swedish press today. "Man's life has its seasons of spring, summer and autumn," he wrote, "but the spring may have in it a touch of autumn or a touch of spring. Sorrow may change morn to evening or spring into fall. The tree of life, blasted by lightning, raises itself again with difficulty. Yet we, who grumble when the world goes wrong and rail, in ingratitude, at the wise decrees of Providence, should remember the promise sown in our hearts of resurrection—of another spring after life's autumn and the winter of the grave. God is the sun to the seasons of our life and, as angels, ought we not to feel sure that the friendships we form here may follow us to the mysterious beyond and, with glorious song, accompany us into the eternal spring as our most blessed memory of our lives on earth."

THE scenes in and around Fairmont, W. Va., incidental to the terrible mine disaster a few days ago, are exciting the sympathy of people throughout a large section of the country, and many are aiding the survivors of the unfortunate miners. Not what to do with the dead, but how to care for the living, is the problem of the hour. Fully 200 families have been deprived of their sole support, fully 150 wives have been made widows, fully 600 children have been rendered fatherless. Misery has increased day after day. The vacant chair, the empty room, the little children who toddle out at eventide to watch for father, who never comes; the scant larder, have combined to bring these women to a sense of their loss, and they are sitting in their homes with their heads in their hands. It is heartrending to look upon wives weeping for dead husbands, children wailing for dead fathers, and to see the terror with which, in their helplessness, they face the future. About $20,000 has been contributed toward a relief fund.

OLIVER GOLDSMITH in his immortal "Vicar of Wakefield" tells of the rector (a prominent character in the book) serving the congregation without salary. Truth is often strange as fiction. Rev. Dr. Tupper, pastor of the Fifteenth Street Baptist Church, Brooklyn announced last Sunday that hereafter he would never receive, directly or indirectly, one cent for the preaching of the Gospel. This is said to be the first instance in the history of Brooklyn where a minister has announced his purpose to preach the Gospel without a salary. A desire to aid the congregation in lifting the indebtedness incurred in the building of a new church is said to have prompted Dr. Tupper to give his services without financial recompense. Dr. Tupper is said to have an income which enables him to devote the salary given him as pastor to the work of the church.

ANOTHER Virginia paper—the Mirror—published at Mineral, Louisa county, has suspended.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Dec. 10.

There is quite as much speculation around the Senate as to the character of the reception that Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, will get tomorrow when he makes the speech that he has announced, as there is as what he will say. That he will be subjected by the old members to the mild hazing which is usually handed out to fresh young members of premature speech is confidently expected. The tradition of the Senate is that new men should be seen and not heard, for at least the first session. When Senator Beveridge came to the Senate, he controlled himself for as much as three months and then, unable to stand it longer, burst out into oratory on the Philippines. He was listened to by his aggrieved seniors for the first ten minuter, and then, one by one, they retired to the committee or cloak rooms, until there was scarcely any one left but his colleague, Fairbanks, to here his burning periods. But hear is "Jeff," only ten days in his seat. All senatorial precedents will be broken when he takes the floor tomorrow. Never before has one of the "babies" of the Senate (in point of service) had the nerve to produce the first set speech of a session. Because Davis's reputation as a "fire eater" has preceded him, there will undoubtedly be considerable curiosity to hear what he has to say, and his manner of speech, but it is probable that this will be so unsatisfactory that before he gets fairly into the swing of his remarks against trusts and corporations, he will be talking to many rows of empty seats. But he wont care much. He knows his speech will get back into Arkansas, and as that is the purpose of making it, he will be personably satisfied.

What will become of the Clayton resolution, declaring that third presidential terms are "unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions?" is now being asked. The resolution is regarded by astute politicians as the cleverest move made by a minority member for many a month. It is likely to put "the republicans in a fix," as one of them remarked today, for no matter what the speaker does or does not do with the resolution, and no matter which way the majority of the congress votes, if it ever comes to a vote, the republican cause is likely to be severely stung.

"I consider that William J. Bryan is the greatest living man" said Charles G. Heifner, democratic national committeeman from Washington, after an interview with the President today. "The President told me I was good looking enough to be a republican" continued Heifner, and I replied that I would not be near so good looking if he did not cure our nervousness pretty soon by telling us officially that he was not going to to run again. Out in our section, we hear of nothing but Bryan for the democratic nomination. I believe that Bryan will be nominated, and I believe he will beat Roosevelt, for I am confident the President is preparing to run again."

Orders were issued at the Navy Department today detaching Rear Admiral Robert M. Berry from duty as commandant of the Norfolk navy yard December 17, and granting him leave till the date of his retirement for age, January 26. Captain Edward D. Taussig, president of general court martial at the League Island navy yard, has been ordered to assume command of the Norfolk navy yard December 27.

The War Department today received the following official telegram from Col. Reynolds, in command of the federal troops at Goldfield: "On arrival here found the district orderly. Except for the mines not in operation, business and other conditions normal. No disturbances worthy of notice have occurred since. Civil authorities here have been consulted. I have not assumed control, except to ask them to inform me frequently as to the state of affairs. A general feeling of confidence prevails from presence of troops. The difference between the mine operators and miners have not been settled. The operators are going to open the mines this week. When this occurs, some fear there will be trouble."

Mr. Culberson, democratic leader, introduced a bill in the Senate today making it unlawful for any federal corporation to make a political contribution of money or other thing of value."

Senator Gallinger, for the high tariff men, started the fight in the Senate today against the President's efforts to negotiate treaties by which they cla'm the tariff bars will be let down.

The bill drafted by Capt. Ewing provides for the appointment of a police justice in Alexandria county.

All the citizens' associations in the county are expected to send delegates to the meeting and all citizens' whether members of associations or not, have been invited to attend.

SOUTHERN MAY COMPROMISE.

It is reported in New York that the rate war directed for the last year or so by many of the southern States against the Southern Railway may soon be ended, as an adjustment of the passenger rate has been decided upon.

According to the reported agreement, the Southern Railway will establish a 2½ cent-a-mile passenger rate instead of the 2 cent rate enforced upon it by the Legislature of North Carolina and the Railway Commissioners of Alabama, Virginia and other States. The flat 2-cent rate will be charged only in the sale of mileage books.

It is believed it will be found possible to induce the legislatures to repeal the 2-cent passenger rate laws.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Dec. 10.

SENATE.

The storm of democratic disapproval, which has been gathering since summer over the administrations' financial policy, broke with force in the Senate today.

After a week of impatient waiting, consideration of democratic leader Culberson's resolution, calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for certain information, was given.

Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, whose temporary absence has interfered with the proposed debate, was in his place.

As soon as the resolution had been read, he got the floor. The Senator said the committee on finance expected to meet this week and report a resolution calling for an inquiry into all the measures of relief taken by the Treasury Department to meet a situation which had developed in New York. He hoped the resolution would go to the committee. "That committee will report back as soon as possible a general resolution providing for a general inquiry into all facts," he said. "We believe this will be more satisfactory to Senators who have a purpose of ascertaining facts and that feeling is shared by all the members of the finance committee."

Mr. Culberson had another resolution, which had been pending, read. It sought to ascertain specifically the public moneys in national banks, favored ones, amounts on deposit, etc.

"If the Senator from Rhode Island will assure me that the committee report will bring forth an answer to all my inquiries," he exclaimed, "I have no objection to the reference of these resolutions to his committee."

Aldrich was on his feet at once. "I not only did so assure the Senator, but I do so now," he explained. "All these matters will be taken immediately by the committee, and a resolution of inquiry will be reported as soon as possible, undoubtedly this week, which will include these inquiries and those of others."

"That's entirely satisfactory," announced Mr. Culberson, and his resolutions were so referred.

The Clay resolution, largely to the same tenor, on ascertaining the amount of public money on deposit in national banks, was laid before the Senate.

Mr. Aldrich—"I would ask that the same action be taken."

Mr. Clay—"In view of the statement that has been made, I am willing for the resolution to go to the committee. I don't believe the Secretary of the Treasury can justify the fact that over $250,000,000 raised by unjustly taxing the people should be deposited in banks without one cent of interest. That system of finance should be investigated and condemned."

The Clay resolution was referred. A smile went over the chamber when the last of the resolutions, two by Mr. Tillman, were then taken up. They, in brief, directed the finance committee to inquire into the lawfulness of the Treasury Department's issue of canal bonds and certificates of indebtedness; also to ascertain whether warehouse receipts on cotton, etc., were not of as legal a character for public securities as the certificates.

The South Carolinian announced himself as satisfied with what the finance committee would do, he being a member, but in view of the fact that he desired to collect some material on the subject, he asked that the resolution be left on the table. The request was granted, and the flurry ended.

The doors were then closed for the consideration of nominations.

AGAINST A THIRD TERM.

Representative Clayton, of Alabama, yesterday introduced a resolution "declaring it to be the sense of the House that to break down the barrier against perpetuity of tenure in the presidential office is fraught with grave peril to American and republican institutions."

Mr. Clayton's resolution therefore resolves: "That in the opinion of this House, the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the presidential office after their second term has become by universal concurrence a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

Mr. Clayton, in discussing his resolution, said that one similar to it was passed in the Forty-fourth Congress. It was introduced by Representative Springer, of Illinois, and on December 15, 1875, was passed by a vote of 233 to 18; not voting 38. The House was democratic and Kerr, of Indiana, was the speaker. As the vote shows, many republicans voted for the resolution, which was aimed at President Grant's third-term. Mr. Clayton hopes he can get enough republican support for his resolution to get it out of committee, in order that a record vote may be secured in the House.

Attack War Ministry.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 10.—Generals Stoessel, Fock and Reiss, charged with joint responsibility for surrendering Port Arthur to the Japanese, turned their defense today into a furious attack on the war ministry.

In denying their guilt the accused commanders say the fortress was so ill-equipped, under-provisioned and poorly armed that an effective defense was impossible. They attribute its shocking condition to the war ministry, and assert openly that they think it was due less to incompetence than to corruption.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Admiral Evans's Fleet.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 10.—Sixteen majestic but unforbidding looking battleships, the bulk of the American navy, lie at anchor in Hampton Roads today, ready to begin a fourteen-thousand mile cruise.

The work of preparation is now complete. It means that every detail in the general plan of moving 223,846 tons of battleships, manned by 13,000 men, a distance of 14,000 miles, is finished. There are 1,300,000 tons of coal ready for this purpose; 1,000,000 pounds of beef; 1,205,000 pounds of flour, and other provisions in proportion. Every ship had to have wireless telephones.

Admiral Evans will hold a conference with his three rear admirals and sixteen captains. After this, he will make a personal inspection of each ship.

This done, there will remain but one thing more before the long cruise is begun—the giving of the signal. This will fall to the lot of President Roosevelt who, from the Mayflower, will send the great fleet on its journey.

The ships will drop anchor at Trinidad Christmas Eve. There the 13,000 men will have their turkey dinners and their games. It will be the first stop, after leaving Hampton Roads.

Admiral Dewey's message to the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet is as follows: "Your mission is one of peace and one which is at this time essential to our naval development and preparedness. The loyal spirit of service of the old navy which you have inherited and the tireless industry which has organized this splendid fleet, guarantee that it is prepared for any duty and any eventuality."

The Strike in Goldfield.

Goldfield, Dec. 10.—Non-unionsist are expected hourly to reopen the strike bound mines. The owners refuse to say more than that operations will be resumed before the end of the week.

There is no doubt that the operators' association is much put out by Col. Reynold's views that the troops are here merely to maintain order and not to guard the properties. The members are fearful that the troops may be withdrawn, declare that the present peaceful situation is due solely to the military's presence, and assert emphatically that the soldiers' departure will be followed by immediate outbreaks of violence.

Quarters have been fitted up on the mine properties for accommodation of the expected non-unionists and constant additions are being made to the owners, force of private guards A wage scale of $4 daily is to be established and unless the local merchants lower prices the owners' association threatens to open company stores. Officials of the organization assert they have 500 strike breakers ready to enter the field at a moment's notice.

Probable Cessation of Hostilities.

Orin, Dec. 10—Emissaries from rebellious Bennis Nassen tribe are in conference with General Lyautoy, commander of the French force in the field against them, looking toward a cessation of hostilities.

The four or five other tribes which joined the Bennis Nassen forcesin the holy war against the first have not been heard from, but there is little doubt that, abandoned by the main body of the rebels, they will quickly sue for pardon.

The Arabs were much alarmed by the defeat of the Marabout, who proclaimed the holy war and the energy with which the French are acting against them seems to have convinced them that they have no hope of sweeping them from the country.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 10.—There was renewed pressure on the market this morning with selling of many stocks. Losses were sustained all through the list during the first hour, even in stocks which had already suffered because of a continued liquidation.

After the first hour there was a development of general weakness in the market based on the increased tension in call money. The money crowd at noon was the largest one on the floor and at that time the entire bank money was a loan of $500,000 by the Chase Bank at 20 per cent. Brokers used as loaning agents by some of the important institutions reported a demand by telephone to their banks, but obtained no response by way of supply of call money even at the high rate which was then established at 25 per cent.

STATE COURT REVERSED.

The question whether a railroad company can be compelled upon the order of a State railroad commission to stop its fast mail trains when engaged in interstate commerce was decided yesterday by the Supreme Court of the United States in the negative in the case of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company vs. the Board of Railroad Commissioners of South Carolina. The suit arose in connection with an effort on the part of citizens of the town of Latta, S. C., to secure the stopping of two such trains, which daily pass through the town, upon being flagged, and the commission ordered that stops should be made whenever the signal should be hoisted. The railroad company resisted the ruling as unreasonable and as an interference with interstate commerce.

The State Supreme Court decided against the company, and it appealed to the Supreme court of the United States, with the result that the relief sought was obtained. The opinion of the court was delivered by Justice Peckham, and reversed the decision of the South Carolina court. The opinion held the order of the commission to be an interference with interstate commerce.

A Home Made Happy By Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—Geo. W. Spence, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

EVILS OF "DRY" SYSTEM

Why Rev. Mr. Wasson Advocated Return to License System.

The fight before Congress to impose prohibition on the District of Columbia has brought out some interesting material on both sides. In this is a letter from Rev. William A. Wasson, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Riverhead, Long Island, who made himself famous last spring by leading the fight in his home town to have the sale of whisky licensed after two years of "dry." Mr. Wasson was successful, too, and turned his town back to the license system, after the most bitter contest known in Long Island. When Mr. Wasson was recently written to by Philip Rappaport for an expression of his views as to the "dry" and "wet" methods of his own town, he replied:

I have seen enough of the world and understand human nature sufficiently well to know that the attempt to enforce prohibition anywhere must, in the long run, prove a dismal failure. I can speak of conditions here in Riverhead from actual observation. I have lived in the town over five years, and have had an opportunity to observe the results under both license and no-license. The no-license plan, during the two years previous to the return to license last May, not only did not remove the evil of intemperance, but it aggravated that evil and added to it many other worse evils. It is a prolific breeder of perjury, lawlessness, and hypocrisy.

During the whole two years liquor was sold under cover by all saloon keepers, and, besides this, all kinds of vile and poisonous concoctions were dispensed by irresponsible and disreputable persons, who, under the license law, could not carry on this criminal practice. With the facts in view, I felt it to be my duty, both as a minister and a citizen, to do all in my power to put an end to this noxious system. I advocated license on moral grounds, and I based my argument on the comparison of the two plans here in Riverhead. The result of the vote was the adoption of license by a large majority.

The results during the past six months have splendidly vindicated the wisdom of that verdict. For one thing, Sunday selling stopped short as soon as the license law went into operation. Under the no-license plan, Sunday selling was the rule. Now, the selling of liquor is absolutely confined to those that hold licenses. Before the town was full of secret joints. The whole moral tone of the community has been improved by our present rational system of license and control. Under no-license, control was simply out of the question. The leader of the prohibition forces in Riverhead admitted to me last spring that the no-license scheme had proved a failure, and yet this man tried to have the people give their vote of confidence to this failure. Fortunately the majority of the people cannot be fooled all the time. I predict that it will be a long time before the voters of this town go back to the folly of prohibition.—[Washington Herald, Dec. 9.

DIRECTOR FOR 29 YEARS.

Mayor T. P. Wallace, when a member of the Legislature from Orange in 1879, together with Mr. R. A. Coghill, of Amherst, drew the charter for the Charlottesville and Rapidan R. R. Co., which is now a part of the Southern Railway. A few days ago Vice President A. B. Andrews, of the Southern, sent for Mayor Wallace, who is a director of the road, to come to Washington to confer with him in regard to the papers of the C. & R. R. R. Co. On examination it was found that Mayor Wallace is now the only person living who has been connected with the railroad from its inception.

Representative Griggs, of Georgia, has announced that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself as chairman of the democratic congressional committee.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The adjourned meeting of the Sons of Confederate Veteran, was held last night at Lee Camp Hall when the committee appointed at the former meeting, Dr. Lewellyn Powell, Edgar Warfield sr., and C. W. O'Meara, submitted their report on constitution and by-laws, which was acted upon and adopted in sections, The adoption as a whole was laid over until the meeting to be held the second Monday in January, in case there may be other by-laws needed to be added. The Camp will hold regular meetings the second Monday of each month and provision is made to hold adjourned meetings for the purpose of entertaining the members and functions from time to time. The following officers were elected: Dr. E. A. Gorman, commandant; H. Noel Garner, first lieutenant commander; Louis N. Dudley, second lieutenant commander; Frederick Schwab, third lieutenant commander; C. W. O'Meara adjutant; Dr. S. B. Moore, surgeon; F. W. Ebhardt, quartermaster; Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton, chaplain; Benedict P. Wheatley, treasurer; S. H. DeVaughn, color sergeant; Jas. T. Luckett, historian. The Camp instructed that application blanks be printed at once, and that the organizing list of names for membership be kept open until the regular meeting in January.

After talks by several of the members and Mr. Fontaine W. Mahood, Commissary-General, U. S. C. V., of Washington, the meeting adjourned.

When the reading of article second, for which objects the camp was formed, was finished the committee was complimented on its work. The article reads as follows:

"It will be a matter of only a few years now when death will have removed from his loved Southland the last Confederate Veteran. Unless, therefore, the sons of those who fought for their country's honor are banded together to keep alive the story of their deeds, they will soon be forgotten, and the true history of the war covered with oblivion. We need to be brought in close touch with these veterans so that we may learn from their own lips the incidents of these battles, and the little unwritten details of the war which throw such a sacred halo around it, and to that end to hold ourselves in readiness to accept and preserve such records, relics and other property as may be committed to our care by any individual or society— especially the Camp of Confederate Veterans of our vicinity—when death shall have disbanded their organization.

A SHARP TRICK.

Early last night a telephone message was received at a King street drug store to send several articles to a house on north Henry street. The articles cost between one and two dollars, and the man who sent the message requested the druggist to send change also for a five-dollar bill. The order was filled and the goods and the change given to a boy to deliver the same and receive the five-dollar bill. The youth soon reached the house and found a strange colored man on the pavement. The latter took the package and the change and told the boy to wait on the pavement while he entered the house from the rear so he could open the front door. He said he would then hand him a five-dollar bill. The boy waited a reasonable time, but the darkey failing to appear, he made an investigation and discovered that he had been robbed of the goods and the change. The police were notified of the occurrence, but were unable to find the man.

HEAVY RAINS.

The rainy weather which set in early yesterday continued throughout the night. This morning there were several heavy downpours, which flooded some streets and choked sewers. At the southwest corner of Cameron and Union streets the water spread from the curb to the railroad track, while farther south similar conditions prevailed. At the northwest corner of Prince and Union streets the water spread over the west side of the latter street. The sewer at that point was clogged, as was also that at the northwest corner of Prince street and the Strand. Similar conditions prevailed in some other parts of the city. The intersection of Cameron and Payne streets was in a bad condition, especially at a time when many people were compelled to take electric trains at that point for Washington.

She is to be delivered within 11 months and will be employed in the night line between Norfolk, Alexandria, Washington and Old Point.

The will of the late William H. Lambert was admitted to probate today and Mr. R. D. Marshall, son-in-law of the deceased, qualified as executor. Lambert, of St. Louis; $1,000 for the Alexandria Hospital; $500 to the Masonic Home in Richmond, and the remainder of his estate to his daughter, Mrs. Helen Louise Marshall, of this city. His estate was valued at about $35,000.

THE OLD DAIRY HOMESTEAD.

The production of the Old Dairy Homestead by the Lyceum Dramatic Club tonight promises to be a great success. An excellent cast under the direction of Mr. M. E. Greene has been secured to picture this story of rural life as it should be done. The cast is as follows: Mike Donnavin, a tinker, Wm. Toomey; Malcolm Gray, an ex-convict, M. J. McFarland; Willie Work, born tired, H. Linden Wheatley; Jason Wilkins, a farmer, M. E. Green; Josh Arrowroot, town constable, C. A. Rothmund; Jack, a farm hand, R. C. Green; Mrs. Glimmer, an adventuress, Miss M. Greene; Becky Wilkins, an old maid, Miss M. King; Maude, Mr. Wilkins' niece, Miss L. Lynch; Ruby, a waif, Miss M. Murphy. In addition to the above Mr. Wm. E. Thornton, so well known to Alexandrians for his pleasing rendition of popular songs; Mr. Harry Maxwell and the popular Alexandria Mandolin Club will render the specialties between acts.

CIRCUIT COURT.

A special term of the circuit court for this city is being held today, Judge Harrison, of Winchester, presiding, to hear the case of J. Louis Loose against the Southern Railway Company. The object of the suit is to recover damages in the sum of $20,000 for injuries alleged to have been caused plants and hot houses of the plaintiff, situated near Hunting Creek, by smoke and cinders from the defendant's shops and roundhouses. The case was tried once, but the jury was unable to agree. The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Norton and Boothe, and the defendant company by Col. F. L. Smith and Mr. R. D. Brumback.

MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the Well's Mountain Sanatarium Company was held yesterday evening at which officers and directors were elected.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Potomac Savings Bank, of Georgetown was held in this city this evening, as was also the annual meeting of the Home Savings Bank, of Washington. At these meetings directors were elected and other business transacted.

THE REVIVAL SERVICES.

Interest in the protracted meeting now being held in the Second Presbyterian Church is as apparent as ever, another large audience being present again last night. Rev. Dr. Flinn delivered an earnest and forceful sermon, which was listened to attentively. He will preach again tonight. The Dailey quartette renders splendid vocal music nightly.

POLICE COURT.

There was but one case before the Police Court this morning. Officer Ferguson had arrested two men, who gave their names as Lemuel Jackson and William Murphy, as suspicious characters. Justice Caton gave them fifteen minutes in which to leave the city.

VOTERS.

The time in which voters could qualify themselves to take part in the next June election by paying their capitation tax expired today. When Treasurer Robinson closed his books there were slightly upwards of 1,500 names on the list.

THE LUCKY NUMBER.

The handsome gold rosary, given by Court Kavanaugh, No. 54, D. of I., was drawn for in St. Mary's Hall last night and won by Mrs. R. W. Chaelton, of 1807 Twenty-second street, Washington. The lucky number was A-53.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. FAILS TO PAY DRESSMAKER.

Mrs. Helen A. W. Cowen, widow of John K. Cowen, who died while president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was the defendant in Baltimore yesterday in a suit for $3,000 for merchandise alleged to have been bought of Hammond B. Safford, of New York, where Mr. Cowen had a summer home.

During the past summer Mrs. Cowen was made the defendant in suits aggregating $32,000 for wearing apparel obtained from dressmakers in New York and Baltimore.

Yesterday Miss Sarah Campbelina Cowen, the beautiful daughter of Mrs. Cowen, and a debutante in fashionable society for a year, had a judgment docketed against her for $150 due Rosalie Seuelle, a trained nurse.

Last Saturday suit was entered against Miss Cowen for $405 for stockings and gloves L. Sleinger & Sons say they sold the young woman.

During six months she purchased seventy-four pairs of hose ranging in price from $1.50 to $15 a pair. During the same period she bought twenty-nine pairs of gloves. Albert Sigmund & Son have also sued Miss Cowen for $115 for a squirrel jacket and $30 for a muff.
